2019
MUNICH

Students and recent graduates of translation, localization, and interpreting programs around the world are invited to apply for GALA's Rising Star Scholarship. Attending the conference is a great opportunity for students to learn about important trends from industry thought-leaders and make connections with translation and localization professionals.

To apply for the scholarship, submit an original essay considering the following question:

What should stakeholders in the language industry do to prepare themselves for the machine learning evolution? What will be the role of the humans?

Two students will be awarded a trip to Munich to attend GALA's annual Language of Business conference (full conference registration, hotel and travel fees).
